"Ah, never shall the land forget
How gushed the lifeblood of her brave—
Gushed, warm with hope and valor
yet,
Upon the soil they sought to save."

Young Bob La Follette still isn't satisfied, and wants the Senate to conduct its tariff hearings in the wide open spaces. Pretty soon the only secret under cover thing in this country will be a mysterious Army secret-martial.

Lindy is seen at Utica, Schenectady and Troy.

There's not a town upon the map that hasn't seen the boy. He's over San Francisco, passed Dubuque at half-past two, Arrived at Dallas at high noon as on his way he flew.

Atlanta hailed him in the dawn, Chicago saw him fly Across State street at one o'clock, a mere speck in the sky.

Reports from Concord have him there, a hotel suite engaged, The crowds of Berlin welcome him and Paris is enraptured.

At Moscow he's expected and the beacons are aglow, At Peking, Shanghai, Washington, and also Kokomo.

While out at sea the sailors gaze with glasses at their eyes, To catch a glimpse of Lindy as around the world he flies.

We happen to be the only person who really knows where Lindbergh is—he's with Anna.

Some idea of the intellectual capacity of the Senate for self-government may be gathered from the amendment which would require the Civil Service Commission to work for a two-weeks' job, taking the census. By the time the House has kicked the debenture grab out of the farm bill it will have the other foot ready.

We who are living get out of Memorial Day what those who have gone before have put into it.

While Secretary Louman is abolishing "courtesy of the post," tourists who will be coming back home about September entertain a few hopes that he will also do away with the customary discourtesy of the post.

Senator Smoot, being gifted with a less sardonic quality of humor than that which characterized the late Boies Penrose, outlines the Senate's tariff plans without once referring to the House bill as "a piece of wall paper."

Wisconsin having cast off the shackles of fanaticism and become the fifth wet State in the Union, how long will the delegation in Congress continue to go around singing "How Dry I Am?"

It is understood that as soon as the Hawley tariff grab is enacted the next good-will tour will be mapped out to include the entire world.

"The year goes wrong, the taxes grow strong, Hope starves without a crumb, Prescott and Colquhoun still yearn For better times to come."

What pathetic scene do we witness? It is the White House gate. Two poor men enter, with hats in hand. Their faces are pinched, their eyes plainly show the ravages of hunger, their feeble legs scarce can support their emaciated bodies. Would you believe it—they haven't had any pie for months! Let us ring down the curtain. It is too sad.

The average American's idea of today's British election is that Nancy Astor is running for something, and somehow he can't help hoping she won't get it.

Washington Senator lays down the Jones law on long summer recesses, but what's the penalty for adjournment, five years or $10,000 fine?

The aviator out to break an endurance record is a good deal like a senatorial orator—descends to earth only when his supply of gas is exhausted.

The Senate is now reported to be in a semilucid condition on the debenture.

Senator Nye's adopted scheme (as Al Reeves used to say, "Give me credit, boys!") to send 100,000,000 bushels of wheat we can't sell to the famine-stricken Chinese, is said to have set the Senate wondering whether they are really hungry enough to give up eating grass and twigs and take a whirl at pancakes and muffins.

The Law Enforcement Commission will serve without pay. It's fully worth it.

There are seventeen reasons why the House will oppose the new reapportionment bill, whereas, generally it can oppose a piece of good legislation without any reason whatever.

HOOVER SPEECH TO HONOR DEAD HEROES TODAY

Capital and Arlington Rites Lead Nation's Tributes Memorial Day.

UNKNOWN SOLDIER'S TOMB IS RENDEZVOUS

Veterans' Groups to Place Flowers on Graves in Various Cemeteries.

PRESIDENT ORDERS WREATH FOR WILSON

Services Will Be Conducted at Statues of L'Enfant, Thornton and Hatfield.

President Hoover heads one of the most elaborate Memorial Day programs in the history of Washington, to be given today. He will deliver the principal address in a Nation-wide observance of the occasion in the Arlington Amphitheater.

The Chief Executive, whose message will go on the air through two National-wide hookups shortly after the special exercises open at 1 o'clock this afternoon, also will be represented at the tomb of Woodrow Wilson in the Bethlehem Chapel of Washington Cathedral. A circle of bay leaves sent by Hoover, ribboned in red, white and blue, bore "The President," with instructions for its resting on the tomb.

Continued warm weather with the possibility of thunderstorms and scattered showers in the afternoon was the prediction of the weather bureau as Washington prepared today to honor the dead of the three branches of national defense.

Graves of soldiers, sailors and marines who gave their lives in the defense of their country will be decorated today with flowers and flags, placed by loving friends, relatives and members of patriotic organizations. In cemeteries all over the United States the heroes will receive the tributes of a grateful Nation.

Unknown Soldier to Be Honored. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier will be the resting place for scores of wreaths and floral pieces placed by patriotic societies, representing veterans and their auxiliaries of every war since the days when Indians roamed afar in their war paint and feathers.

Events of the day will begin at 9 o'clock, when the annual Memorial parade forms at Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania, avenue northwest, in front of the historic G. A. R. Hall. Although the line of march of the procession is not long, representatives of most of the patriotic and veterans societies in the Capital will be in the parade.

A wreath will be placed on the tomb of Admiral George Dewey in the Bethlehem Chapel of Washington Cathedral at 9:45 o'clock this morning by the Admiral Dewey Camp, Spanish War Veterans, following a welcome by the Rev. Raymond L. Wolven, canon of Washington.

The tomb of Woodrow Wilson in that edifice yesterday was the scene of the laying of a wreath by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of the District of Columbia. Those participating included Capt. Frank Lockhead, department commander; the Rev. V. O. Anderson, department chaplain; Joseph P. Beattie and Charles H. Reilly, former department Commanders; Capt. Edwin S. Bettelheim, national adjutant, and Frank Thomas.

Senator Glenn is to be the speaker at the exercises at 10 o'clock in the National Cemetery at the United States Soldiers Home, where the Illinois State Society will honor the memory of Gen. John A. Logan, who is buried there.

Landlady, 65, and Man, 21, Held in Roamer's Murder

Woman Repudiates Her Confession Insurance Caused Tragedy.

Macos, Ga., May 29 (A.P.).—While Mrs. J. C. Bowers, 65-year-old rooming house proprietor, sat in her cell tonight and repudiated her confession that she "killed" Earl Manchester to kill James Parks, Manchester elaborated on his earlier story and told police the woman promised him $1,000 "to do the job."

The landlady confessed during the day that she conspired with Manchester to kill Parks, a 23-year-old printer who roomed at her home, so she might collect a $14,000 insurance policy which named her as beneficiary.

Caisson Blast Traps 14 Men Under River; Rescuers Take Out 10

Every Available Jersey City Ambulance Is Rushed to Scene; Thousands Gather on Shore as Divers Are Summoned to Descend Into 45 Feet of Water.

Jersey City, N. J., May 29 (A.P.).—Four men went to their deaths tonight and ten others were rescued when compressed air escaped from a steel caisson sunk 75 feet into the bed of the Hackensack River, at the Newark Turnpike Bridge, Jersey City.

Four bodies were forced 10 feet below the bottom of the river by air which escaped from the tube when one of three air locks broke. The rescued men were brought to the surface with their bodies distended by the sudden change in air pressure and with arms and legs broken. They were placed in emergency air chambers to relieve them of the "bends," then sent to a Jersey City hospital, where it was said all would recover.

Besides the fourteen men in the caisson, four other men were on the top of it when the airtight blast of the escaping air warned them of impending danger. Two of the workmen escaped from the scene while the other two were blown into the Hackensack caisson and the other was rescued by the operator of a nearby crane.

Within half an hour every available ambulance and foreman of Jersey City was at the scene and the rescue squads were awaiting the arrival of divers to descend into the 45 feet of water and attach hoses to the caisson, so that the water might be pumped out.

The fourteen were engaged in the operation of sinking caissons for abutments of the new vehicular bridge which is to span the Hackensack between Jersey City and Harrison, as a connection with the Lincoln Highway to Port Newark.

The men had been at work only about an hour tonight when other workmen saw a geyser shoot high in the air and the caisson sink quickly out of sight.

Thousands of persons were gathered on the shore as doctors and nurses waited with pulmotors and other equipment.

TARIFF WAR LOOMS, WORLD AGAINST U.S.

Stimson May Warn Congress of Protests by Various Nations on Plans.

RETALIATION IS MAPPED

By ALBERT W. FOX. A tariff war against the United States, initiated by the concerted action of foreign governments and made effective, if possible, by retaliatory measures against American products, now looms as a certainty in case the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill is enacted into law.

Accumulating evidence of this is reaching the State Department from various countries, and Secretary of State Stimson may feel called upon to apprise Congress of these communications.

In response to a question yesterday, Mr. Stimson remarked that he had not yet been through a tariff bill fight and assumed that this was exclusively a matter for the Congress. But the Secretary made it clear that the foreign protests give him something to think about. There appears to him to be no reason for denying Congress the information which comes to the State Department with respect to the expressed reaction of foreign countries to proposed American tariff legislation.

So far, Great Britain, France, Spain, Canada, Argentina, Cuba, Costa Rica, Honduras, Salvador, and all Mediterranean countries have gone on record in advance in their most pronounced opposition to the proposed American tariff plan. The list of countries is increasing almost daily.

By way of retaliation, the foreign countries would single out American automobiles, machinery, agricultural implements, raw materials in many cases, wheat in other cases, typewriters, office equipment and a variety of items too numerous to mention. The American automobile industry would probably be hit the hardest.

America is not without effective weapons of retaliation and could, if necessary, go to the extent of putting an embargo on designated foreign imports into the United States. It is also realized that retaliatory measures against American imports into foreign countries would bring about a raise in the price to the point where foreign purchases might be impossible. So damage to American industries would be accompanied by damage to the country.

EXPERTS REACH AGREEMENT ON GERMANS' DEBT

Revised Annuities Fixed, but Few Conditions Remain Yet.

SOLUTION DESIGNATED AS NO ONE'S VICTORY

Compromise Effected on Basis of Proposals by O. D. Young.

2,050,000 MARKS SET AS EQUITABLE FIGURE

French Not Expected to Take Up Their Problem Until Report Is Received.

Paris, May 29 (A.P.).—Agreement on revised annuities of German World War reparations, the major task that has engaged the experts in Paris for nearly sixteen weeks, was reached by the Germans and creditors tonight.

There remain for discussion conditions and reservations as to application of these general figures, some of which may be referred to the governments concerned for later negotiation, but they are not expected to occupy the delegates long.

The final agreement was a compromise, and a compromise reached on the basis of proposals by Owen D. Young, American chairman of the conference, who more than once earlier had drawn his associates out of a seeming deadlock. His proposal has been altered only by adjusting it to special conditions.

Lamont Explains Situation. The situation was explained tonight by Thomas W. Lamont, American alternate, as follows:

"Both creditor and German experts have heretofore declared themselves willing to accept the annuity figure of $200,000,000 marks as suggested by the chairman, although a difference existed on the question of interpretation."

"This difference has now been removed and a common basis for interpretation acceptable to both the creditors and to Germany has been found, subject, however, to agreement on the outstanding conditions which still remain for discussion and settlement."

It was further explained that this agreement was no one's victory, for both Germans and creditors gave way to make it possible.

Regarded as Important Step. The general opinion of the experts was that a most important step had been taken toward final elimination of reparations from the thorny aftermath of the World War. There was no disposition to cry victory, because there remained a number of knotty points among German conditions and allied reservations, any one of which, if not satisfactorily disposed of, might make final agreement impossible.

The experts will grapple with these problems tomorrow. The probability was that the allies would meet in the morning and advise the Germans of the results in the afternoon. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who has been resting at Versailles, will probably be on hand for this closing phase of the conference.

The principal points requiring further discussion are redemption of German paper marks imposed on Belgium during the World War; the German demand for right to suspend payments on part of the protected share of annuities to the reparations agent for two years; and the German demand that the last 21 years' annuities be met through payments by the state's successors to the Austrian Kingdom and from profits of the proposed bank for international settlement. Mr. Young had proposed 20 payments of 1,700,000,000 marks ($408,000,000) and a final payment of 900,000,000 marks ($216,000,000).

Occupation Expenses Are Problem. The Germans have also raised the question whether the cost of the armistice of occupation will be properly chargeable to the Reich after the Young annuities go into effect. Some experts,

Police Hunt $10,000 Pin, Lost or Stolen

$1,000 Reward Offered for Recovery by Owner; Identity Hid.

Police yesterday were requested by Paul G. Garber, of 1210 Eighteenth street northwest, to institute search for a $10,000 platinum diamond bar pin that was either lost or stolen in this city on May 10. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for its recovery.

Garber stated last night that he is acting for the owner of the pin, whose identity he did not care to reveal. Detective Sergt. Michael J. Dowd and James Springman had been assigned to investigate the case.

The diamond setting of the bar pin contained from 200 to 225 small diamonds and three larger diamonds, Garber reported.

Air-Minded Washington Lad's Career Romantic as Hop and Stunt Aviator.

Los Angeles, May 29 (A.P.).—Solo endurance records today were shattered apparently beyond argument. Herbert J. Fahy, test pilot for the Lockheed Aircraft Co., landed his single-motored cabin Lockheed-Vega monoplane here late today after having been in continuous flight for 36 hours 58 minutes and 35 seconds, establishing a new world's mark.

Taking off and winging over the San Fernando Valley and vicinity at 4:45:38 a. m. yesterday, Fahy at 4:32:05 this afternoon, with his original supply of 435 gallons of gasoline diminishing rapidly, continued circling about until he had surpassed by one hour the unofficial record of 35 hours 33 minutes and 21 seconds, set by Martin Jensen at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., last February. The record previous to Jensen's effort was 35 hours 24 minutes and 59 seconds, made by the late Royal Thomas at Roosevelt Field May 3 of last year. When he landed at 5:39:41 p. m. Fahy found he still had three gallons of gasoline in his tanks. He said he came down, however, because he feared a landing in the dark with a "dead stick" due to lack of fuel.

Reading Books Secretary.

"Personally I feel I could go on another 24 hours," the record-breaker declared when he stepped from the cabin of his plane.

Although he had a number of sandwiches, Fahy said he ate little during the flight. He drank two of the three quarts of coffee he took with him and also some orange juice. He commented on the monotony of the hours aloft and told of reading a magazine while making long swings to San Diego and return. He explained that his monoplane cruised smoothly in perfect weather and that reading was neither difficult nor dangerous.

Today's achievement followed an attempt last week by Fahy to hang up a new solo endurance mark. Fog and a high wind forced him down after some 24 hours in the air.

The weather throughout his record-breaking flight was of the best and the only flaw in the schedule was when his navigation lights failed last night and he was forced to fly "blind" during the hours of darkness.

Fahy Capital Product. It was 21 years ago this summer that Herbert J. Fahy saw his first airplane. Since then he has been what is described in aeronautical parlance as "air-minded."

"Washington was his home, and young Fahy, at the time, was a pupil at the Grant School here. His mother took him one day to Fort Myer to view the sights of Orville Wright, who was trying to sell his 'flying machine' to the Army.

Fahy was fired with a desire to fly and later was referred to as the original "kid pest" of Washington airports. He frequented the shed at Fort Myer, which served as a hangar for the Wright planes, and helped the mechanics at every opportunity.

District Republicans Visit Hoover, Request Patronage

Delegation Calls at White House After Indignation Meeting Is Held Because Organization's Choices for Political Plums Were Ignored; Result Is Unknown.

Aroused by a long series of rebuffs in presidential appointments, local Republican leaders visited the White House yesterday in an attempt to regain their old patronage power. Their visit followed what was virtually an "indignation meeting" the night before.

The two leaders—Samuel J. Prescott, chairman of the local Republican State committee, and Edward F. Colladay, Republican national committeeman for the District—held a lengthy conference with President Hoover, but whether they got any definite encouragement from him was not made known.

The last four men to be appointed to local office have all been opposed by the Republican organization here, or, better, have not been the choice of

PERSONNEL BOARD ACTION POSTPONED

Official Changes Date for the Ruling on Employees to Go Into Effect.

ACT OF CONGRESS SOUGHT

Comptroller General McCarl yesterday modified his recent ruling which would have disrupted the activities of the Personnel Classification Board at the close of the month by postponing the operation of his decision until Congress can take some action this fall.

The full force of this modification, however, extends only to those employees who hold permanent positions. The temporary employees, by departmental assignments, and were loaned to the board because of their knowledge of personnel matters.

Time Is Allowed.

The board was given until July 1 to arrange for the continued employment of that group, which was hired specifically for duty in the board by the President. Members of the board are confident that this can be done and that there will be no general dismissal of employees at the close of the fiscal year.

McCarl sent his decision to Gen. Herbert M. Lord, director of the Bureau of the Budget and head of the board. The decision read in part:

"It would not be seriously questioned, of course, that the decision necessarily applied the statute involved and that there is no authority in the Comptroller General of the United States to so direct the actions of the Administrative officers in this matter as to require them to continue in force existing details, or to issue renewals thereof, or Credit Not to Be Disallowed.

"However, in view of the representations made to the effect that no other means are available under existing appropriations for carrying on the work of the board, it has been realized that some of the activities of the board should not be discontinued at this time. I have to advise that if the condition of the work and appropriations of the departments and establishments concerned are such that they can and will continue the existing practice of permitting their regular employees (not including those expressly employed for work under the board) to be detailed to work with the board until there has been an opportunity for the needs of the board to be considered by the Congress at its next regular session, this office will not, because of such details, disallow credit in the accounts of the disbursing officer involved for proper payment for services rendered during such period.

"With respect to those who were employed expressly for the purpose of being detailed to the board, having in mind that some of them may be engaged upon work which the interest of the Government require should not be discontinued immediately, and to permit a reasonable time in which to complete, or to make other arrangements for the completion of such work, this office will not disallow credit for otherwise proper payment made to such employees for necessary services rendered with the board prior to July 1, 1929, but no such employees may be continued on detail or regetailed to the board for any period after June 30, 1929."

Mills was booked on ten charges of housebreaking and three charges of grand larceny, and Banlon was booked on three charges of housebreaking.

The two men, police charge, robbed apartments in the northwest section of Washington of jewelry, clothing and Personal property valued at $2,000. A wrist watch stolen in one of the robberies, which Mills gave to his wife as a wedding present, was recovered from Mills' home, police said. In each case the two men forced the doors or windows of the places which they robbed, police said. Mills was lodged at the First Precinct last night and Banion was held at the District Jail.

Labor Loses Battle for New Wave

Application for WBBM and KFAB's Channel and Award of 50,000 Watts Power Denied by Commission to Union.

Pressure from organized labor failed to influence the Federal Radio Commission, recently reorganized with two new members, to take away the cleared channel now shared by stations WBBM, of Chicago, and KFAB, of Lincoln, Neb., and award it with 50,000 watts power to the broadcasting station of the Chicago Federation of Labor, WCFL. Solely upon considerations of "public interest, convenience and necessity," the Commission denied WCFL's application for the WBBM-KFAB wave length and, for the present at least, showed that it intends to maintain the status quo of Chicago's already congested radio situation.

While no detailed statement was made with the decision, it amounted to a clean bill of health for WBBM, and a victory for Ralph L. Atlas, its owner, of Chicago, and Thomas E. Littlepage, its counsel, of Washington. The Chicago labor organization may appeal the decision to the circuit court of the District of Columbia, or it may seek some other channel for its proposed high-powered transmitter. Meanwhile, it will concentrate upon its application for short waves for relay broadcasting in order to link other stations throughout the country in a chain of stations by wire so that they may subscribe to its labor programs.

The labor station's fight for a new wave length precipitated a battle of Titans before the Federal Radio Commission, and the final decision came somewhat as a surprise. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was one of those who testified on behalf of WCFL. Frank Morrison, secretary of the national organization, also appeared. Attorney Littlepage concentrated his efforts at the four-day hearing upon proving WBBM's superior status as a broadcasting station devoted to all-around programs. Station WBBM presented testimony from union leaders brought to Washington from all parts of the country and testimony from local unions throughout the United States.

While comparisons are usually odious to bear upon the service rendered Chicago listeners by WBBM as against that of WCFL, the latter station, by levies upon the labor union's membership, was criticized for its failure to diversify its program. Station WBBM is commercially supported, but was praised as being more popular with more people. Criticism of the labor station's programs was directed toward urging the commission to decide the case purely on the relative merits of the two stations.

Station WCFL has been fighting an uphill battle to secure better reception in wave and power assignments. With Chicago well served by at least four stations of first rank, its difficulty has largely been its location. Illinois and the Chicago area are entitled to only a certain amount of facilities under the equalization plan. When the allocation of last November was made, the stations devoted to general and diversified programs got the greater share of assignments. Station WCFL was awarded daylight hours only on a cleared channel allocated to the far Western zone. Its power was kept at 1,500 watts.

The labor group proposed not only to erect a 50,000-watt transmitter but to "red" its program via the short waves to other stations throughout the country. This was practicable, was testified by its consulting engineer, E. A. Beane, former Department of Commerce radio supervisor at Chicago. Three relay waves were sought in order to carry the relays without resort to telephone lines such as now connect the stations belonging to the large national chains. In effect, it was proposed to organize another National chain, utilizing short waves instead of wires to link the members together.

Decisions on the relay waves was not rendered by the commission when it refused the labor station's application for the wave length of the other Chicago station and the one in Nebraska. Because of a heavy schedule of hearings during the next two or three weeks, the Federal Radio Commission, at a meeting called for a discussion of the subject, has decided that it will not send representatives to the Radio Show, to be held in Chicago next Monday. It is planned that the commissioners will leave Washington a few weeks later for inspection trips to their respective zones.

Contact With Silver Kills Typhoid Bacilli

Paris, May 29 (A.P.).—A spiral tube of silver in a beaker of water containing typhoid bacilli is reported by Prof. Lakhovsky to kill the germs in 24 hours. His theory is that the silver sets up an electrical circuit and that this kills the bacilli in contact. If there are impurities in the silver, he says, the action is hindered or stopped. The experiments are performed at the Pasteur Institute.

WORK'S BRIDGE

Mr. Work has prepared a booklet giving detailed information concerning the correct way to play Progressive Auction Bridge. This booklet will be sent to all readers without charge. Mr. Work will also answer without charge any Bridge questions. Requests must be accompanied by an addressed, stamped, return envelope and addressed to Mr. Milton C. Work, care The Washington Post.

The probable Auction Bridge bidding of today's hand would be: South one Spade, West two Hearts, North two Spades, East three Hearts, South three Spades.

The probable Contract bidding: South one Spade, West two Hearts, North two Spades, East pass, South three Diamonds, West three Hearts, North four Diamonds, East pass, South four Spades. In the play West led the King of Hearts. South trumped and led two Diamonds, winning both in dummy. He then led a small Spade from dummy, winning in the closed hand with the Jack, and next led the King of Diamonds from closed hand, discarding a Heart from dummy. East trumped and led a trump which Declarer won with the Ace and then led the Queen of trumps, getting a fortunate break and exhausting the adverse trumps. He then tried the Club finesse, which lost, and the adversaries took all the remaining tricks. Declarer's total winning being four Spade tricks and two Diamond tricks.

With so many apparently probable tricks in his two hands, it is Declarer's hard luck that something else which held him to only six.

THE CORRECT PLAY. In the embarrassing position in which the Declarer was placed when West's good Hearts forced him, his best plan would have been to let West cash his Ace, King and Queen, discarding three of South's Clubs; West then would lead a Club to trick 4, which would enable South to get rid of his last Club under Dummy's Ace. Declarer then would win touching trumps. If he exhausted the trumps first, as he would like to do, he would have to overtake Dummy's diamond in Closed Hand, and that scheme would fail dismally unless the six adverse Diamonds were evenly divided. If the adverse Diamonds are divided 4-2, as was to be expected, cashing Dummy's Diamonds would accomplish the desired result. In other words, Declarer's best chance for game is to follow upon the basis of a 4-2 division of the adverse trumps.

Clyde Fitch's four-act drama "Nathan Hale," which was first produced in 1899 with Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott in the leading roles, will be broadcast over WRC as a special Memorial Day feature of the National Broadcasting and Concert Bureau at 9:30 o'clock. The drama is built on historical facts, and in one previous radio performance, proved itself admirably adapted for microphone presentation.

The real events that led up to the trapping of Lim Glim, one of Canada's greatest drug dealers, will be re-created at 8 o'clock when True Detective Mysteries presents its hour through WMAL.

The Sonora Hour will be heard at 8:30 o'clock, followed by the Columbian, the Paramount Hotel and Pancho orchestras.

Abraham Lincoln's appearance at Cooper Union, New York City, in 1860, will be re-created for radio listeners by an eye-witness at 6 o'clock from WJWB, when George H. Putnam, author and publisher, recalls "Memories of Lincoln."

Putnam was on the platform at Cooper Union with Lincoln on the evening of February 27, 1860, when the candidate from Illinois made the address which established him as a force in the approaching presidential campaign.

More than a hundred radio stations will join with C. A. Earl, president of the Charles Freshman Co., Inc., in calling the Nation to law appreciation late this afternoon. This appeal will take the form of a simultaneous broadcast at 6 o'clock, Eastern standard time.

What Today Means to You

May 30.

By MARY BLAKE.

"GEMINI." If May 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you are from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m., from 12 noon to 2 p. m., and from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. The danger periods are from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. and from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The influences in force May 30 will promote great social activity. It will be difficult to focus your attention upon serious matters, and business affairs will remain somewhat at a standstill.

The child born on May 30 will be very affectionate, extremely loyal and very unselfish. It will be socially inclined, and will naturally take its place as a leader within its own clique. It will be very democratic, and will never show any traces of snobbery. You are inclined to be very serious minded and thoughtful, and you possess considerable depth of feeling. You have a great deal of patience in any work or plan in which you take an interest, and you persevere in spite of all odds against you. You have very pronounced ambitions, and you are destined to rise above the level of the masses. You are a thinker and a reasoner, and are capable of assuming responsibilities, and taking a leadership. It is not necessary, however, for you to always be in command. You are willing to cooperate with others and to bow to superior authority. You have the faculty of finding out the strong points in others, and of pushing their talents to the front.

Your devotional nature is very deep and you have sincere and original views about religion. Your heart throbs for humanity, and you are not deaf or blind to the sufferings of those who are less fortunate, and your sympathies are expressed through the good deeds which you are constantly doing for others. Your charity, however, begins at home. You reserve in manner presents you from readily making friends, but once a friendship is formed, it is usually a life-long contract. You have a sincere love for your home and desire a great deal, when necessary, for those who share it with you.

designs. For evening, printed chiffon, printed lace, tulle. A noteworthy number of models have capes, and many of the coats are three-quarter length. Embroidery used lavishly, especially tiny flower designs.

A new Parisian couturiere heard from. Apparently sufficiently well thought of to have attained by merit the rank of Haute Couture. And after giving due and careful consideration to the summer evening ensemble illustrated for you today, you will not find it hard to understand why it should be so! Nice?

You need not be an artist to make lamp-shades! You need not send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Bureau of Design of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet which tells you exactly how to make them. All the different kinds of shades there are, you know—you can make them with the designs we gave you last week! Better send that envelope!

Dear Chums: ever so season mamma Dah-ray lets me have one best kite as well as my taylor's school kite—the best kite is for sun days and evenings and some afternoons when I go to the theatre or dancing school.

This summer its a cape with a collar that looks like a little cape off its years kite—with it I wear whatever shoes and hats go with the dress and it and then I have one hat that just matches the cape. Goodbye.

Ways of the Olden Mayas.

IV. POTTERY AND HOMES. The Mayas were experts at making clay jars, bowls and dishes. They also made vases from clay.

The clay vessels were adorned with colors—orange, yellow, red, brown, pink and green. Often the colors were used to make pictures on clay, including images of monkeys, jaguars, snakes and birds. Now and then a sketch of a priest or a god was used.

Panel over a doorway in Yucatan. Clay dolls were made in the region. These dolls had arms and legs which would move, because they were formed from separate pieces of clay. I suppose that the little Maya girls prized such dolls as greatly as modern girls prize dolls with china faces.

The Mayas sometimes built concrete walls for their houses. To make the concrete, they broke up limestone and mixed it with mortar. The mortar was made by mixing lime with water.

The common house of the region was only one story high, but there were some houses with two or three stories; and at least one house had five stories. The upper rooms, however, were usually built on a solid base, and were placed back of the rooms below. In that way there was a terrace like in forming the houses, which were much like the homes of the Pueblo Indians.

The buildings which have kept their shape for centuries, are of concrete; but it is believed that the usual home of the time was simply a palm-thatched hut.

In the same district today the Indians live in palm-thatched huts. Frames were made for the doorways of concrete houses, and panels over the doorways were sometimes carved. One such panel, found in Yucatan, contains the figure of a mouth with giant teeth.

The Mayas were good weavers. They knew how to make lace as well as cloth.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Atlantic City
To Lure Many
From CapitalCurtis, Among Others, to Attend Convention Hall
Dedication.

By JEAN ELIOT.

HEADED BY Vice President Curtis and Speaker Longworth, a large delegation from the Senate and the House will go to Atlantic City tomorrow to attend the dedication of the great new Convention Hall, which stands on Atlantic City's famous boardwalk looking off to sea.

Two of the most distinguished members of the Diplomatic Corps, its dean, the British Ambassador, and the Spanish Ambassador, Senor de Padilla, are to take part in the ceremonies. Lady Isabella Howard will accompany Sir Esmé to Atlantic City and they will visit in Philadelphia for a day or two before returning to Washington on Monday. Senor de Padilla is already in Atlantic City with her daughters, Senorita Rosa Padilla and Senorita Maria Padilla.

It will, however, be a man's party board the "congressional special"—a special car attached to the through train tomorrow. And while Vice President Curtis is absent, his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Gann, will slip away for a brief holiday at Old Point Comfort. They will leave town today by motor.

Both the New Jersey senators, Senator Walter Evans Edge and Senator Hamilton F. Kean, will make the trip, with more than a dozen of their colleagues. However, the make-up of the senatorial delegation is still a bit in doubt because of the uncertainty as to what may happen "up on the hill" in the next day or two.

The House group is more complete, those who have "signed up" including, beside the Speaker, Representative John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut; Representative John N. Garner, of Texas; Representative Bertrand H. Snell, of New York; Representative John Taber, of Rhode Island; Representative Robert Low Bacon, of New York; Representative Charles R. Is This Your "Ann"?

Six long months old—you could almost eat her when she gives that special smile reserved for you—or cuddles up in your arms so sweetly and contentedly. And that sugar on her thumb that never loses its flavor—and how she splashes in her bath.

Those are the pictures you want of your "Ann!" We've improved children's pictures so remarkably that every one is trying to match them—but can't because the Seldner-Viken patents are exclusively ours—forever! Now is the time for baby's picture.

THERE'S ROSEMARY, THAT'S FOR REMEMBRANCE, AND CLUSTERS OF HEARTSEASE

AS the thinning ranks of those who fought our country's battles gather to reverse the memory of the eternally mustered out, it is fitting that the nation should turn from toil and play to pay homage to all those who made and preserved our homeland.

And surely the brave dead for whom this day was designated would count it ill against us if we did not also remember all the loved and lost whose lives touched ours.

So let the flowers fall softly today on grave and tomb, and in the garlands which mark their resting places, let there be rosemary, "that's for remembrance" and close beside it clusters of heartsease.

FRANZ H. RIDGWAY SERIOUSLY HURT AS CAR FALLS IN RIVER

Corcoran Insurance Company
Secretary's Auto Jumps
Potomac Sea Wall.

UNCONSCIOUS OFFICIAL PULLED FROM MACHINE

Mystery Surrounds Cause of Accident; Chance of Recovery Fair.

Franz H. Ridgway, 53 years old, of 8201 Cathedral avenue northwest, secretary of the Corcoran Fire Insurance Co., received serious injuries yesterday afternoon when the automobile he was driving plunged over the sea wall into the Potomac River in the west Potomac Park near the Polo Field.

Marion Rice, of 2650 Wisconsin avenue northwest, who was fishing near the scene of the accident, extricated Ridgway from the car. Rice was assisted by Policemen E. J. Cain, of the park police, and several other persons who rushed to the spot.

Rice told police that Ridgway was seated at the wheel of the car unconscious. The upper part of the car was above the water, the lower part being shallow at the point where the plunge occurred.

Ridgway was rushed to Emergency Hospital, where he was reported to be suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, concussion of the brain and internal injuries. Doctors at the emergency room said that although Ridgway's condition is extremely critical, that he has a fair chance to recover.

Beyond the fact that Ridgway lost control of his car, police are unable to account for the accident. When told police that he knew nothing of the accident until he heard the crash as the car leaped over the wall.

Mr. Ridgway has been affiliated with the Corcoran Fire Insurance Co. for about twenty years.

A wrecking crew from the American Automobile Association removed the car from the river.

Worker Seriously Hurt By Sewer Ditch Cave-In

Marshall Burgess, colored, 50 years old, of 27 H street northwest, an employee of the Potomac Electric Power Co., narrowly escaped being killed yesterday when a sewer excavation in which he was working caved in at New Jersey avenue and L street southeast.

Burgess, according to police, was buried up to the neck. He was dug out by other workers and rushed to Casualty Hospital, where he was reported to be suffering from bruises and shock. His condition was said to be serious.

Change in Traffic Laws Advocated

Board of Trade Committee
Proposes Double Parking in Downtown Areas.

A proposal to amend the traffic regulations to permit double parking in the downtown area where it does not interfere with traffic was adopted yesterday by the board of trade.

Mr. Brandenburg, president of the board of trade, advocated the elimination of some of the downtown traffic lights to permit a faster movement of traffic in the downtown area.

These proposals will be studied by the committee and brought up for action at a later meeting. Theodore W. Noyes, vice chairman of the board of trade, presided in the absence of the chairman, George W. Offutt. Col. A. B. Barber, manager of the transportation department of the District of Columbia, was a guest.

Man Sues Girl Driver And Father in Crash

As the result of a recent traffic accident, Matthew Mendelsohn, of 1311 Buchanan street northwest, entered suit in the District Supreme Court yesterday for $10,241.30 against Conrad G. Sylvig and his daughter, Miss Margaret Sylvig.

Through Attorney Wilton J. Lambert, Mendelsohn declared that Miss Sylvig operated an automobile, owned by her father, which collided with the car he was driving at Seventeenth and P streets northwest on May 17. The plaintiff asked the court to grant him $10,000 for injuries; he says he received in the collision and $241.30 damages to his automobile.

Man and Wife Drop Charges of Assault

Refuse to Press Complaint
That Followed Row
in Automobile.

After causing Michael J. Davis, of the Southern apartments, and James H. McLaughlin, of 1343 L street northwest, to be arrested on assault charges and to be brought to Police Court yesterday, Ralph Meighan and his wife, Mrs. Betty Jane Meighan, declined to testify against the pair and Judge Gus A. Schmidt dismissed the charges.

The four principals and four other persons attended a party at the Chillum Manor roadhouse, on Riggs road, in nearby Maryland, on Tuesday night, when an argument broke up the festivities, according to police. Davis, McLaughlin and the Meighans were returning to this city, it was said, when the argument was resumed.

The car was wrecked in a fight that followed, police said, and Mrs. Meighan was treated at Garfield Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Davis and McLaughlin were arrested on Park road northwest a few hours after the alleged fight. Davis, McLaughlin, Murphy and C. D. Schamp, of the Tenth Precinct, Meighan appeared at the court with several bondsmen covering wounds about his face and hands. When the case was dismissed, the four left the court together.

Main Library Partially Open.
The three branches and four sub-branches of the Public Library will be closed all day today except that the central building at Eighth and K streets northwest will be open from 2 until 5 o'clock this afternoon for circulation and reference work.

New Capital Yule Tree Planted as Sun Blazes

While Mr. and Mrs. Washington generally were suffering from a blazing sun yesterday, casting anxious glances skyward in hopes of getting relief with a shower, the thoughts of another little group were on snow storms, sleigh bells and colored lights.

With the thermometer registering well above the 80 mark, there was planted in Sherman Circle the new community Christmas tree. It is a 35-foot Norwegian spruce and it will take the place of a tree borne down by two heavy strings of lights.

G. H. Collingwood, representing the American Forestry Association; Clifford Lanham, superintendent of trees, and C. Henlock, horticulturist of the Bureau of Public Parks and Public Buildings, were on hand for the planting. The tree is a gift of the Amawalk, N. Y., nursery, which also donated the first community tree.

Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, retired, will be sworn into office at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chairman John W. Childress, effective at midnight.

AIR STUDENT SAVES LIFE BY 'PANCAKING'

Brook Cunningham Succeeds in Minimizing Crash of Sluggish Plane.

LANDS FLAT IN MARSH

Brook Cunningham, 25-year-old flying student at Hoover Field, miraculously escaped injury yesterday morning when the plane in which he was flying solo crashed from a low altitude into a marsh at the edge of Washington Airport and turned over.

Cunningham, hanging head down within a few inches of the water, wriggled out of the cockpit and splashed into the marsh.

The crash was seen by Lieut. Burna Trundle, Washington Airport pilot, who was just starting to take up a load of passengers. Trundle taxied his plane over to the crash, where he found Cunningham standing waist-deep in water.

"Hey!" Cunningham yelled. "Are you hurt?" Trundle asked him. "No," replied Cunningham. "But I'm wet."

He clambered through the marsh and walked to Hoover Field, from whence he was taken to the hospital. Cunningham was not injured.

Later Cunningham explained that the ship, a Travelair biplane, powered with Curtiss C-6 engine, betrayed sluggishness in taking off. After he got into the air the engine failed to develop the power it should have and Cunningham was unable to attain an altitude greater than about 75 feet.

When the engine failed, Cunningham said the plane began to lose altitude, and he decided to "pancake" it down in a marsh. He was landed in a marsh at the edge of Washington Airport, Cunningham said the plane began to lose altitude, and he decided to "pancake" it down in a marsh.

SPEEDING TROLLEYS BRAIDED CRIMINAL IN HOWSER REPORT

Bridge Engineer Says Lives of Passengers Are Menaced on Spans.

P STREET CONDITIONS CALLED FULL OF PERIL

W. R. & E. Orders to Obey
Safety Restrictions Are Flouted, He Holds.

"Total disregard of the law" prohibiting street cars on the Klingle Railway and Electric Co. from speeding across the P Street Bridge has developed a condition which it will be "criminal" to permit to continue, H. R. Howser, assistant engineer of bridges, declared in a report to the District Commissioners yesterday.

Washington Railway & Electric Co. street cars, Howser said, at night disregard the stop zones at the ends of the bridge and come down the hill at speed of 20 and 30 miles an hour, although the speed limit permitted them is 12 miles an hour.

There are no lips on the track curves on the bridge and the cars are used on curved tracks on the streets and the woodwork of the bridge would be entirely inadequate to hold a car should it jump the track.

There have been, he declared, two derailments of street cars on the Klingle Bridge, one on the Highway Bridge and one on the Monroe Street Bridge, adding that the same conditions exist on the P Street Bridge.

Howser said that the Klingle Railway and Electric Co. Howser's report said, when appealed to, issued orders restricting the speed of cars and the bridge engineer said that the orders had been flouted.

"To allow conditions such as have existed late at night on this structure during the past several weeks could not be classified to a lesser degree than 'criminal,'" Howser said, in concluding his report. The question was referred by the Commissioners to the Utilities Commission for action.

The Utilities Commission will be set to begin functioning by next week, under plans completed yesterday.

Harleigh H. Hartman will be sworn into office as a member of the commission at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of the late Commissioner John W. Childress, effective at midnight.

Gen. Patrick was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Childress, which had one more month to run, but immediately at the conclusion of that period President Hoover intends to reappoint the general for a full term of five years.
